To-day Captain Henry W. Lyon, commandant of the navy yard, will make an official call upon Governor Carter at the Capitol building. The hour set for the function is eleven a. m. The Petrel had not reached port when the call was arranged for, but it is probable that Lieutenant-Commander Sherman will also pay his respects to the chief executive of the Territory in the staff of his superior officer.

POLICE GO TO WAIALUA.

afraid that the strikers were going to do them violence.

"When the strikers arrived at the camp the men there, fearing trouble, capitulated and agreed to join in the strike. That ended the possibility of trouble and it was decided to send ten of the police back, and although the other ten will stay until morning, they will have nothing to do.

"The strikers are holding a meeting to-night and I suppose they will send delegates to me with their grievances in the morning according to their regular custom. I cannot say what the grievances are nor whether they are just until I hear from the men. They have not told us anything of what they want. No laborers except the Japanese have struck, and none seem inclined to."

From reliable sources it was learned that the strike is for more pay. The cane loaders are getting about a dollar a day now, and are striking for more.
Most of the recent strikes have been for some one fairly good reason and about fifty imaginary ones. It is probable that the dispute will be amicably settled when the delegates from the strikers and the plantation manager get together this morning.
